Ticket & Order Creation

Under this functionality the categories of accountable items are created, and then customised according to the used to be given. The sales department or customer service team could use both orders as well as tickets to report issues, or even create different technical categories according to urgency or reporting levels.

.